SEDALIA, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, MARCH 28, 1893.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

LOST HIS MONEY.

A TELEGRAPH STUDENT LOSE
$150 IN CASH.

Wm. Alexander, an Englishman, and His Friend "Charley,"
Supposed to be Thieves.

On Saturday, Feb. 18, Wm. Alexander, a young Englishman about 26 years of age, put in appearance in this city and stated that he was in search of work. He introduced himself at the Y. M. C. A. rooms of the Y. M. C. A., and stated he had formerly been in the employ of Rev. B. F. Boller and had come to Sedalia with the expectation of being again employed by him. Rev. Boller had removed to Davenport, Ia., and Alexander seemed to be of a most unthrifty nature and wanted assistance.

He claimed to have come to Sedalia from Burlington, Ia. A letter to Secretary E. A. Barrett, of the Y. M. C. A. in that city, brought back the request that board and any absolute necessities be furnished Alexander if he was in need, and that Mr. Barrett would stand the expenses. On February 23 Mr. Barrett sent a draft for $20, asking that a suit of clothes and some shirts, collars and cuffs be purchased for Alexander. He spoke of the latter's "hard struggle," and said that "for reasons best understood he wanted him to have as little money as possible."

Alexander got a position as janitor in Brown's Telegraph school, giving his services in this capacity in return for tuition. After working and studying about two weeks he was taken ill and lost his position. He was confined to his bed at the boarding house of Mrs. Ray, No. 129 East Pacific street, until last Saturday. Yesterday morning he made arrangements to begin canvassing the city for a Chicago photograph house. In the afternoon he met a man whom he claimed was an old acquaintance. He spoke of him familiarly as "Charley," and said that they had not seen each other for over three years. They remained together during the afternoon and visited Alexander's room. In the room at the same time was Mr. J. F. Ellis, a student at the telegraph institute. Alexander wrote a note to his friend "Charley" and remarked inquiringly, "you understand." "Charley" replied in the affirmative.

Ellis and Alexander occupy the same room, which contains two beds. Alexander and his friend retired last night after Ellis had gone to sleep. This morning when the latter awoke he found the room in disorder. He commenced to put on his clothes and discovered that his shoes were missing. A search at once showed he had been robbed. From his trunk had been taken $150 in cash, money which Mr. Ellis had saved to pay his tuition. No trace of the two thieves could be found, both having left the house during the night.

Alexander is a young man of good education. His father, S. J. Alexander, is a retired merchant and lives in England. A brother, Edward, has a position in a bank at Exeter at $500 per month. His father is a Quaker and a letter came to his son this morning dated Posilipo, Weston, S. Mare, March 16. Alexander, when quite young, was sent to Spain to a university. He grew dissipated and drank deeply. His father, being a Quaker, would not tolerate such conduct, and the young man ran away and came to America about six years ago. He took the Keeley cure and claims to be freed from the habit. Alexander is a tall, spare built young man, wears eyeglasses, and has a florid complexion. His hair is red, and quite curly.

The case has been put in the hands of Chief of Police DeLong who is making a strong effort to locate Alexander and his pal.

Going Back on the Road.

His many friends will be glad to know that Virgil Dillon, the successful and widely known commercial traveler for the Collins Bros. Drug Co., of St. Louis, will go on the road again on April 1st. Mr. Dillon has been quite ill, but is now fully recovered. Oscar Ott, of Ott Bros., of this city, has kindly and efficiently covered Mr. Dillon's territory during his illness.

A Happy Anniversary.

W. J. Fisher, for the past seven years a popular and efficient engineer on the west end of the Missouri Pacific railway, surprised his estimable wife yesterday in a most pleasant manner. The twenty-second anniversary of their marriage occurred yesterday and its celebration was a happy one. Mr. Fisher told his wife in a rather careless and indifferent way that he was going over to the shops "to see about his engine." He returned home, however, in a short time and as carelessly threw down an envelope and a small package, upon each of which was his wife's name. From the envelope dropped a crisp $500 bond and in the package was a gold watch bearing upon the case Mrs. Fisher's monogram, "K. F." It is needless to say that the lady was surprised beyond measure. The DEMOCRAT hopes that the future has many anniversaries in store for Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and that each of them will bring Mrs. Fisher a $500 bond.

"Professor."

Editor DEMOCRAT.
I write to protest against the discrimination you make in referring to the candidates for county superintendent of schools, against my friend, Miss Kernodle. When you throw away the title of "professor" so lavishly, why do you refuse to give it to her?

If the male teacher in charge of a school of twenty-five small scholars in the country is entitled to this distinction, why is not the principal of a school of seven hundred scholars in the city of Sedalia to be known by the same title?

If you answer it is because of the fact that she is a female, I protest in the name of those who believe in "Women's Rights," and also those who believe in equal justice and fair play.

But seriously, Mr. Editor, do you not do yourself a wrong in trying to tickle the common school teacher by calling him "Professor?" Your readers will think that you really believe that this title belongs to such teachers, when as a matter of fact, you do know better.

The superintendent of the schools of New York City or the principals under him never think of being called professor, and were any one to call them by such a title they would very soon protest against it.

Police Court.

The following cases in the police court were disposed of before Recorder B. Rauck this morning:

Dug Ogan, intoxication; $10. He was fined yesterday for the same offense.

George W. Banday, Frank McWilliams, John Monroe and Eddie Jackson, late hours, were fined $10 each and granted a stay to leave the city.

A Good Team.

After years of service upon the Nevada Mail as city editor, Colonel Harvey W. Isabel has associated himself in the same capacity with Ev. Bean on the Evening Post, formerly the Democrat. Colonel Isabel is a news hunter who is known throughout the southwest for his ability, and if he and Ev. Bean do not wear diamonds, plug hats and patent leathers this spring it is because they are too modest.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following parties:

Leslie and Mrs. Hattie A. Wilson, both of Sedalia.

Frank Goodwin and Rosa Jackson, both colored, and of Sedalia.

Amos Harrison and Martha Russell, both of Sedalia.

A. L. Mann, of Beaman, and Mrs. Lulu Williams, of Sedalia.

Tom is Happy.

Conductor Tom Butts' face is wreathed in smiles, a l on account of a birthday present received from a certain handsome young lady not a hundred miles from Sedalia. Tom refused to show the present to a reporter, however.

Assembly Ball.

The members of the Assembly ball will give one of their delightful hops at Siche's hotel this evening. An elegant luncheon will be served. The dancers will trip to the fascinating music of Frieml's orchestra.

Real Estate Going Up.

The real estate firms are holding their prices up for spring, and some good property has been sold at quite an advance. The firm of Woodin & Thatcher say they will not advance the prices for about thirty days on any of their properties. Parties who wish good properties or houses in any part of the city, had better call on them. They write fire insurance, best companies, loan money, buy and sell real estate.—314 Ohio street.

BAWDY-HOUSE ROW.

THE RUMOR GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

NOT QUADRUPLE MURDER.

Four People Assaulted But No Deaths—The Two Assaultants Now Under Arrest.

Special to the Democrat.

MARSHALL, Mo., March 28.—The rumor of a quadruple murder near here Saturday night is false. The story probably grew out of a bawdy house row that occurred on that night in the edge of Cooper county, near Ridge Prairie.

The facts as received here are that Will Taylor and James Dial went to the house of one Asa Harlow and while there assaulted Peter Wolford and his wife with a chair. Harlow resisted Taylor and Dial and they turned upon him and felled him to the floor with an axe.

A general fight ensued in which Dial and Taylor "cleaned out" the entire party, and when they retired from the scene of hostilities they left every soul in the house in an insensible condition.

Taylor and Dial have both been arrested and are now held pending the result of the injuries they have inflicted. There is great excitement among the decent, law-abiding people in the vicinity.

Harlow's Wife a White Woman.

BOONVILLE, Mo., March 28.—A rumor was circulated on the streets this morning to the effect that the Harlow family at Ridge Prairie has been murdered. Your correspondent has been unable to verify the report. A dispatch from Nelson, Saline county, says the rumor is without foundation. Harlow is a mulatto and his wife a white woman. They held a drunken carousal at that ended in a free for all fight. So far as can be learned, no one was killed.

Mysterious Murder.

UPPER MARLBOROUGH, Maryland, March 28.—Great excitement prevails over the mysterious murder of Millionaire Francis M. Bowie, whose body has been found at the bottom of a well.

Collision in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 28.—The Rockford express on the Northwestern, collided with the accommodation at Fortieth street this morning, smashing three cars and seriously injuring three Italian workmen.

Went to Jail.

Edward Hart and John Meyers, who stole six sides of bacon from W. T. Haines, a farmer living in the Pemberton neighborhood, and sold the meat to a Sedalia merchant, were each fined $5 and costs in Justice Fisher's court yesterday. They were sent to jail.

The Primary To-day.

The primary held to-day to nominate a democratic candidate for county school commissioner is progressing quietly. The polls in the city will remain open until 6 o'clock.

Getting Ready for Business.

Sedalia's new bank is getting ready for business. The furniture is being put in to-day and everything will be ready to commence work in a few days.

BEYOND A DOUBT.

Sheriff Arthur, of Greeley, Col., in the City—Positive That He Has John Davis.

Sheriff James S. Arthur, of Greeley, Colorado, is in the city to see what action the authorities are going to take in bringing to Sedalia the negro now held at Greeley as perpetrator of the Sedalia and Denison sensational crimes. Sheriff Arthur is positive, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the man now in his custody is John Davis, of Clinton, Mo. He has upon his person every mark and scar described in the circular jointly issued by the authorities at Sedalia and Denison, and has been fully identified by a former resident of Clinton.

Sheriff Arthur lays claim to the large reward and proposes to see that the man now under arrest is fully investigated before the matter is dropped. Sheriff Arthur will go to Kansas City this afternoon.

Prisoners from the Territory.

Deputy United States Marshals Wm. F. Meyer and W. F. Coffey, of Muskogee, I. T., were in the city this morning in charge of a number of prisoners whom they were taking to the government prison at Detroit, Mich. The prisoners were Jim Lee, white, larceny, one year; Dave Bernard, white, "introducing" whisky, one year; Chas. Wright, alias Chas. Hawkins,

RELIABLE AND NEWSY!

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

The country is ready for a reform of the tariff.

We are having one of the quietest campaigns Sedalia has ever known.

The Illinois legislature is coming in for its full share of criticism. Legislatures seem to be unusually unpopular this year.

The democratic press of the west must stand firm in support of free coinage of silver, even as against the wishes of the federal administration.

No Missouri colonel will get mad because he is refused an office. There are so many colonels and so few offices that it is fate that some one gets left.

OUR federal judges seem suddenly to have been converted to the doctrine of nationalism—at least some of the decisions strongly indicate such belief.

THE DEMOCRAT hopes that the controversy growing out of the nomination of county school superintendent will end to-day, and that no ill feeling has been engendered among democrats that will in any way affect the interests of the party in the future.

The republican leaders in Kansas chose to follow the teachings of New England rather than to remain true to the interests of their own people, and a populist victory was the result. Democrats should learn a lesson from the Kansas misfortune, and steer clear of influences that are antagonistic to the west.

PREJUDICE is not as strong a factor in politics as it formerly was, and the party that would win the votes of the American people must earn them. The party that would remain in power must honestly and in good faith carry out the reforms it promised. Explanations and excuses will not answer when the people demand reform.

INDICATIONS of a prosperous era before Sedalia multiply every day. Never in the history of the city has there been such a universal feeling of confidence in the future. Now, while this feeling exists, we must lay deep and sure the foundations of future prosperity by securing among us those manufacturing enterprises which can be successfully operated here.

Do not be afraid of hurting Missouri, says the Mexico Intelligencer, by enforcing the vagrant law. The exaggerated reports which have been sent out may for a time revive in certain quarters the stale and palsied cry of "Poor Old Missouri," but it will be powerless in the future as it has been in the past to retard either the social or the material progress of the state. Very few people will stay away from Missouri because we have a law that compels lazy, pilfering loafers to earn an honest living. It would in fact be a good thing for Missouri if it were known all over the country that this state is no asylum for vagrants.

AN INTERESTING CASE.
They have an interesting case in Detroit growing out of an attempt to move a building across a street along which an electric street car line was in operation. Of course in order to cross the street with the building, the trolley wire would have to be cut and thus interfere with the street car service. The company objected and asked an injunction to prevent its business being interfered with. In speaking of the case the Free Press says:

"The question raised in the injunction suit concerning the removal of a building across one of the streets on which there is an electric railway, is a grave one, and ought to receive, as it undoubtedly will, the careful consideration of the tribunal before which the suit has been brought. Whether it is wise under any circumstances for the council to permit the removal of a building across a street occupied with car tracks, is a question concerning which a good deal might be said; but whether the council shall be held to have abandoned its right to grant such permission by permitting the erection of a trolley plant is another and wholly different question. It is a momentous one, too. Upon the decision of the courts may turn the entire question of the city's control over the streets and of its right to cede away its control. It will be a most remarkable conclusion, if the courts reach it, that the city or its agent, the council, can grant anybody exclusive rights in the streets."

GRAVE QUESTIONS.
There are grave questions involved in the late decisions of the federal courts affecting the relations of railway employees to the companies by which they are employed—questions which involve to a very great degree the actual liberty of the individual.

In the organization of these great corporations they are given the power of eminent domain—the right to condemn private property for their use—but it was never intended that their sovereignty should extend so far as complete control of the life or liberty of the citizen.

In speaking of this grave question—one that will largely enter into the politics of the future—the Republic says:

"Under the theory adopted by corporation judges on the Federal bench at New Orleans and Toledo no employee of a railroad company is to be allowed to quit work when his so doing will constitute an 'interference with interstate commerce,' nor are strikes to be allowed when it can be shown that they interfere with commerce between the states.

If this were really constitutional law, the constitution would have to be amended at once—peaceably, if possible. Certainly no American would willingly live under a government with power and authority to force him to work in a condition of involuntary servitude. This form of slavery would be far worse than the mild chattel slavery of the south, under which the owner was obliged to support and care for the slave. In the absence of such an obligation those whom fraud would reduce to a servitude under which, when maimed, diseased or incapacitated by old age, they would be turned out to starve, would certainly be justified in defending their liberties against any forcible attempt to destroy them.

In the absence of a contract the American citizen has a right to quit work when he pleases. And even when he is working under a contract he cannot lawfully or rightly be imprisoned for violating it on the pretext that such a violation is a contempt of court or "an interference with commerce." The action taken against him must be for damages in the regular way, and if judgment against him is rendered his property and not his person must be held to satisfy the debt. This new doctrine that a citizen of the United States may be imprisoned for changing from one employer to another without the consent of a federal judge will not be accepted by Americans. They will resist it to any extremity it is necessary to go to prevent themselves from being enslaved.

The corporation judges who are making these wide departures from the principles of American institutions ignore the vital difference between a person who exists in his own right and a corporation, existing as a privilege by the action of the state. Railroad corporations may be regulated because the governments of the states and of the United States have granted them large privileges by virtue of which the government has a proprietary interest in them, at least to the extent of seeing that they carry out the terms of the expressed or implied contract under which these privileges were granted. But government has no proprietary interest in a person employed by a corporation of its creation; and, having none, it has no right to compel its labor.

When government, through its courts or otherwise, attempts to compel the labor of persons who have not been convicted of crime after trial by due process of law, it is enslaving those persons and that without giving them that support in sickness, old age or disability from other cause to which slaves are entitled. All democrats would certainly stand prepared to resist any violent attempt to carry out such a monstrous doctrine.

We are certain that the attempt now being made to revive slavery will fail of itself, but now that the country has seen to what lengths federal judges will go in subservience to those who procured their appointment, it is evident that we must find a peaceable means of checking this despotism, or else that it will be impossible to avoid a violent resistance to violent and lawless attempts to destroy individual liberty.

Some way must be found of riding the federal bench of corrupt men, and as present methods of impeachment are a failure there must be a change under which the legislature of any state may lodge articles of impeachment with the United States senate against any federal judge. With such an amendment we might have some show of responsibility from the federal judges who are now the irresponsible creatures of corrupt and tyrannical corporations."

THE cyclones, in obedience to the law that governs them, says the Kansas City Star, are advancing northward. The first heard of this season were in Louisiana and Southern Mississippi; the last was most destructive in Southern Kentucky, with parallel winds in Indiana. In their natural and ordinary course these convulsions of nature should be expected (if they come at all) in Kansas and Missouri in May. While nothing can be done in the way of prevention, and there is not much to say in the line of consolation, it may be observed that more is known about cyclones than formerly; that their season and direction of their approach has been ascertained and also that they give warning of their coming. There is nothing to do but to keep an eye on the afternoon and evening of these spring days.

A COLD DAY
Coming

To the Opera house, Saturday, April 1, is without doubt one of the best farce comedies ever written—one continuous laugh two and one-half hours long—a whirlwind of merriment. "Cold Day" is full of lovely music and fun and has been played in all the principal cities of the Union in the seven years of its existence. Its musical selections are from Ermine, Spectre, Knight, Gondoliers, Pearl of Pekin and all the latest operas.

A CHARACTERISTIC NOTE.

A Prominent Sedalia Republican Wants to be a Democrat Temporarily.

To the Editor of the DEMOCRAT:
If the democratic party of Pettis county will gallantly nominate Miss Kernodle for superintendent of schools she shall have my vote on election day. Her long and faithful service in the Sedalia schools, her ability and her experience in school work qualify her for the position beyond question. She may have unsound opinions on the tariff, but so many others are in error on this subject that it no longer is worthy of mention.

Why can't the DEMOCRAT come out strong and boldly for the lady and let policy go? Tell your party what it ought to do and urge it to do it and be, for once, exactly right.

I want it distinctly understood that when an excellent lady is a candidate on the democratic ticket, I cannot refuse to support her and am as good a democrat as anybody, but only for that time and occasion.

Yours,
HENRY LAMM.
P. S.—Shirk is with me.

Suppress the Stagnators.

Waves of decency and respectability seem to be like climatic waves. They receive an original impulse somewhere from causes often seemingly insignificant, but they spread and swell and roll until they embrace not only communities and continents, but the whole civilized world.

The United States, after having been an object of shame and reproach for some ten years or more, has been overwhelmed by one of these waves, which had its origin in this city, and has decided, almost as a whole, that the brutal and degrading exhibitions known as glove contests, which have been only prize fights under another name, shall be suppressed.

It was high time that sense and common decency should assert themselves and get the upper hand of brutality and blackguardism. Thoughtful men and women saw in the prevalence of prize-fighting in the United States an approach to a condition like that of Rome under the empire, when the populace became crazed by the so-called sports of the arena, and, as the satirist Juvenal says, were content to be governed by tyrants and madmen if their rulers would supply them with bread and gladiatorial combats in abundance. That such a low state of public morals was destined to result in national disaster is a self-evident proposition, for no nation can be better or greater than its citizens.

It is time that our boasted civilization should reassert itself and declare that in the spectacle of two men trying each to beat the other into a state of insensibility, and being hailed with shouts if he succeeded, there is nothing classical nor heroic nor manly nor admirable in any way.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Solemn Truth in Legendary Guise.

As King Solomon was walking one day in a great city with a friend an awesome figure came into view. "Who is that?" inquired the friend in terror.

Solomon looked, and answered, "It is the Angel of Death."

Then the friend begged of Solomon, who had the power of instantaneous transportation, to send him to some far-off spot, and Solomon dispatched him in a moment to India, thousands of miles away.

The Angel of Death meanwhile approached Solomon and asked, "Who was that man with whom you were just talking?"

Solomon gave the name, and the Angel of Death said, "Strange that he should have been here, for I am ordered to call for him to-night in India!"

Moral: There is no escape from Fate. Therefore do not try to escape it, but go about your work like a man, and protect your wife and children against ruin from the stroke whose coming you cannot foresee, by a policy with Will Woods, in THE TRAVELERS.

A Precise Brakeman.

From the Providence Journal.
Among the employees of the Consolidated railroad is a recent acquisition, whose ultimate ambition is the ticket punch and rebate check, but who at present officiates as an auxiliary to the air pump in the engine, which retards the progress of the train when a stop is desired. On his first trip, a few days ago, the conductor in charge of the train promised to initiate the neophyte into another phase of the brakeman's duties, namely, the announcing of stations. The instructions of the conductor were couched as follows: "When I say the name of a station from one end of the car, you say the same at the other end." This appeared to cover the ground, and the brakeman intimated that he was "dead on to the act," or words to that effect.

The train was Providence bound, and as it reached the ambitious city of polo and politics the conductor and brakeman stationed themselves at either end of the car and proposed to inform the occupants exactly where they were at. "Paw-tucket—Pawtucket," ejaculated the conductor, but scarcely were the words uttered when "Same at this end—Same at this end," came in stentorian tones from the precise brakeman at the other door.

The Massachusetts Man.

From the Chronicle.
"You say a Massachusetts man has his application in ahead of me?" inquired ex-Congressman Ben Cable of Illinois, at the White House the other day, whither he had hied him merrily in search of something for a friend. "Then, if that is so, I respectfully withdraw my application," concluded the Illinoisan as he bowed himself out of the door. Brethren, the scales are gradually lifted from our eyes and we are being made to see that the Great Father at Washington doeth all things well. Hats off to the Massachusetts man!

BOLD BANK ROBBERS

A CANEY, KAN., BANK LOOTED BY OUTLAWS.

THE COOLEST HOLD-UP ON RECORD.

The Notorious Desperado, Henry Starr, Outdoes the Dalton Gang—Ten Men Held Up in Broad Daylight While He and a Half-Breed Companion Make Away With $2,500.

CANEY, Kan., March 28.—A bank robbery, which was not only one of the most daring in the annals of crime on the border, but was at the same time one of the most unique, was committed in this town about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. So quietly was it done that outside of the ten men who were quietly stood up in a row no one in the town knew it until it was over and the robbers had departed with their booty.

The officials of the bank were busily engaged in their work at the hour mentioned when on looking up they were surprised to find themselves covered with revolvers in the hands of two unmasked robbers, one a half-breed Indian known to be the outlaw Ed Newcomb, and a white man who was recognized as the notorious Henry Starr. Cashier Perry Hollingsworth, Assistant Cashier H. A. Scur and Judge McEnery, vice president of the First National bank of Coffeyville, were the three men in the bank, and Assistant Cashier Scur took refuge in the vault and closed the door behind him, but Starr ordered Hollingsworth to open the vault or die.

He then told Scur to open the safe, which he did, and at the point of a gun, emptied $2,000 in bank bills and gold into a wheat sack held by the Indian. The robber then went through the money drawer, securing about $500. They had previously secured the Winchester and revolver that were lying on the cashier's counter, and there was no opportunity for those inside to alarm the people passing by the open door of the bank. Before they finished their work there were seven patrons of the bank dropped in by one to make deposits, and each one was compelled to throw up his hands and march behind the counter.

The robbers while at work, laughingly told the frightened officials and merchants that the Daltons were not all dead by a—of a sight, and that they were going to pay the bank across the way a visit.

They then had the nerve to march these ten men out into the back yard of the building, which is enclosed by a high board fence, and locking the rear door of the bank, walked hurriedly out of the front door into the street, where they had their horses tied. Mounting them they rode rapidly south into the Indian territory, lying two miles south of Caney. It was fully ten minutes before a posse was organized and in pursuit, and the chase was exciting, the pursued and the pursuers riding like the wind across the level prairie.

An Oklahoma Editor Attacked.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., March 28.—J. W. Donovan, land county treasurer of this county, brutally whipped J. J. Burke, editor of the Times-Journal, yesterday afternoon. Donovan is accused of being short in his accounts as treasurer and is now being investigated by the grand jury. The paper published the facts.

Burnett and Joe Harton engaged in a pistol duel in which Patterson was badly wounded. Last night there was a general jail delivery, eleven prisoners in all escaping.

Moonshiners Kill Each Other.
DANVILLE, Ky., March 28.—In an affray near here, Dick Crowder shot and instantly killed James Mender and wounded John Harp so badly that he died in a few hours. All the parties are moonshiners who have been conducting a still at Big Gulch, three miles east of this place.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 28.—Charles Payne, a hack driver, was arrested at Liberal, Mo., and brought back to this city, charged with stealing two valuable couples and two teams of horses from a liveryman in this city.

A Great Strike Ended.
PITTSBURG, Pa., March 28.—The great strike of the Monongahela valley coal miners has practically ended and before the end of the week it is probable that all of the 7,000 old men will be back to work. Fully 3,000 strikers returned to the mines yesterday in the second and fourth pools, and the third pool men have also weakened. The strike lasted seven months and it is estimated cost the operators and miners $4,000,000. Of this amount the strikers lost $2,100,000 in wages.

Is Short a Large Sum.
SANTA FE, N. M., March 28.—Major John T. Majors, inspector of land office, has been at Roswell inspecting the affairs of the land office there, and found that Frank Lesnet, the missing receiver, is short in his accounts with the government between $10,000 and $11,000.

Wagon-Workers Strike.
BOSTON, March 28.—The long-threatened strike of 500 carriage-workers of this city for nine hours a day with ten hours' pay was inaugurated yesterday.

WAR SEEMS CERTAIN.

The Warring Factions of the Choctaws Unable to Reach a Settlement.

AXLTERS, Ind. Ter., March 28.—All ventures looking to peace between the warring Choctaw factions have been in vain.

When Hon. John C. Gibbons went to the militia with Locke's ultimatum, they took the matter under advisement and asked for another conference with Mr. Gibbons.

On returning to the camp Mr. Gibbons found that they had been reinforced during the night. He was informed that two couriers had been sent to Governor Jones the night before, with Locke's proposition and that nothing would be done until Wednesday by which time they expected to hear from the governor and would act as he directed.

This was not satisfactory to Locke and his people and they declared the armistice at an end. The matter looked as if the crisis had come. There was a strong sentiment in favor of attacking the militia at once. Locke decided not to attack, but to move out of town where, in case of a battle the lives of women, children and disinterested parties would be imperiled. So yesterday afternoon a wagon was loaded, with provisions and the forces left the Antlers and went east. They would not say where they were going, but it is believed that they have crossed the Kiamiti river and have struck camp in the mountains.

FAILURES IN NASHVILLE.

Another Bank Suspends, While a Third Posts a Gloomy Notice.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 28.—The Bank of Commerce failed yesterday, while another bank, the Mechanics' savings bank, fearing a run that it would be unable to meet, took advantage of a standing rule and required depositors to give sixty days' notice of withdrawal of deposits.

It was a equally day in Nashville, and but for the fact that the banks had time between Saturday night and yesterday morning to prepare themselves there might have been more trouble. With the exception of the Bank of Commerce, however, all the Nashville banks are perfectly solvent, but of course do not keep enough money on hand to pay off all depositors on sudden demands. Since Saturday, however, the larger banks had secured from $100,000 to $500,000 each, and yesterday when the doors were opened great stacks of currency were piled up on the teller's desks and in plain view the vaults.

THE MONARCHISTS SPEAK.

They Say They Will Spare No Efforts to Regain France.

PARIS, March 27.—The Count of Paris has sent out a circular letter to the monarchist committee throughout France. In it he says substantially: "The present movement is most critical. The chamber has lost credit throughout the country. It is powerless to act against the socialist. It is powerless at home and devoid of authority abroad. The time has come for all right-minded men to unite in a supreme effort to restore the honor of France. The monarchists must not repudiate any political alliance required by the interests of the nation and for the defense of religious liberty, but at the same time they must let France understand that the monarchy alone can give her a strong and stable government, whose sole object will be the public welfare. My son sends me in trying to realize an object. I will spare no effort to place France upon firmer foundations."

His Pica a Novel One.
CHICAGO, March 28.—William Shaughnessy, who arrived in Chicago two weeks ago from Ireland, made a novel plea when arraigned in court yesterday for nearly killing Detective Stoyan. Shaughnessy claimed to have been told by friends that all men in Chicago wearing large black hats were robbers and as Stoyan answered to the description he dealt with him accordingly. The explanation resulted in Shaughnessy's release.

Amateurs Broken Down.
PARIS, March 28.—The long strain to which the prisoners in the Panama canal case have been compelled to submit is beginning to tell upon them at last. Charles de Lessens, at the time a celebrated prisoner, being completely broken down. M. Bihaut, who made the pitiable confession in the court room, seems to be equally overpowered by his sentence.

A Noted Stallion Dead.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28.—Pancost, the noted stallion owned by the Hon. Ben Johnson of Bardstown, died yesterday. Pancost had a race record of 2:21 1/4 and once sold for $28,000, the highest price ever paid for a trotter.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

CLEVELAND SAYS THAT ONE WILL BE CALLED.

SEPTEMBER THE TIME SET FOR IT.

The Consideration of a Tariff Bill and the Repeal of the Sherman Silver Purchasing Act the Object—Lincoln and Grant Not to Be Reappointed—Senator Roach to Be Investigated.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—President Cleveland told a senator yesterday that an extra session of congress would be called in September. The first work that will come before congress will be the consideration of a tariff bill and a bill to repeal the Sherman silver purchase act. Secretary Carlisle will soon be engaged in the work of drafting a tariff bill for submission to the committee on ways and means when congress convenes. Some indignation was displayed by the Democrats when it was suggested that the administration would present a tariff bill. Secretary Carlisle has subdued this raucous feeling by explaining that he would only submit the necessary data for a tariff bill. Bills which Secretary Carlisle will receive from political and other organizations throughout the country will be accepted as suggestions only.

Hot Fight on McAlester.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Governor Jones of the Choctaw country, furnished the senate judiciary committee with some startling information yesterday by wire. A message from him stated that he never signed the petition asking that James McAlester be appointed United States marshal for the Indian territory. The message also stated that he (Jones) had not given McAlester a letter of indorsement.

The Jones message also states that McAlester furnished firearms to the rebellious gang that murdered citizens in his country last fall, and he also charges McAlester with having belonged to one of the gangs of murderers. The message closes with a strong appeal to defeat the confirmation of the appointment.

One Hundred New Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell yesterday appointed 100 fourth-class postmasters and of this number sixty-seven were to fill vacancies caused by the removal of the incumbents. The largest number of changes was made in the state of Wisconsin, where there were twenty-two appointments, fourteen of the incumbents being removed. In Arkansas there were eight appointments and four removals; in Kansas nine appointments and five removals and in Tennessee seventeen appointments and ten removals.

Costa Rica Sends Greeting.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The government of Costa Rica has appointed Senator Don Manuel M. Peralta, who is the representative of his government at several of the European courts, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the United States, on a special mission of congratulations and good wishes on the part of Costa Rica to the president of the United States. Mr. Peralta was formally presented to President Cleveland at the White house yesterday by Secretary Gresham.

Dr. St. Clair Removed.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Dr. F. O. St. Clair, more than twenty-seven years at the head of the consular bureau of the state department has been removed. This was naturally a surprise to Dr. St. Clair, who had never before dreamed of leaving his official conduct had been called into question. He sought an explanation from the secretary. The latter is said to have told him that he had been guilty of holding back official papers on the score that they were personal letters and for this offense his resignation was requested.

Will Investigate Senator Roach.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—After numerous conferences among themselves, the Republican members of the senate have decided that they will insist upon an investigation of the charges that have been made in the public prints relative to the character of Mr. Roach, recently elected a senator by the legislature of North Dakota and now occupying a seat in the senate as delegate. It is said they will protest against adjournment of the extra session until this matter has been brought before it.

The Kansas Muddle.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Crouch of Kansas has gone home and Overmeyer and Mitchell still hold the ground already won. Rossington and Harris are now on their way to join them. So far Cleveland has given no practical recognition to either the Overmeyer or the Martin side, and if the truth must be told both Cleveland and some of the cabinet people have clearly and plainly said they are getting decidedly sick of the Kansas muddle.

Lincoln and Grant to Go.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Cleveland yesterday put a story to sleep about the British and Austrian missions. It was traveling as a story that Ministers Grant and Lincoln would not be removed and Democrats appointed to these posts. Cleveland said that while these two diplomats bore historic names, he would not avoid appointing their successors as soon as their turns came around.

The Issue of Silver.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints and treasury offices during the week ended March 25, was $336,694; for corresponding period of 1892, $401,619. The shipment of fractional silver coin from March 1 to 25, aggregated $604,374.

VERY POOR LAND TITLES.

All the Land in the Michigan Peninsula Said to Be Wrongly Held.

DETROIT, Mich., March 28.—Something in the nature of a startling discovery has been made by H. E. Chipman, son of Congressman Chipman, in relation to the titles of the land of a very large part, if not the whole of the peninsula of the state, and if Mr. Chipman's conclusions are borne out by more minute investigation and sustained by the courts, every acre of land in that peninsula west of the Sault and Mackinac to the Montreal and Menominee rivers and from Lake Superior to Lake Michigan and the Straits, inclusive of city and village lots, will be handed over to their rightful owners, the descendants of the Chippewa Indian nation of the Lake Superior region.

Mr. Chipman asserts that his investigations have convinced him that no cession of the upper peninsula lands has been made to the United States government, and that therefore the title deeds in every registry of deeds in the region indicated are as worthless as so much blank paper.

VALUABLE HORSES BURNED.

Kirk Brothers' Racing String Destroyed in the Stables at Mason City.

MASON CITY, Iowa, March 28.—The stables containing Kirk Bros.' racing string was burned to the ground last evening. In the stables were Storm, 2:08 1/4; Brown Jack, full brother to Storm, Storm Bird, Red Clay, and several other valuable horses. The eyes of the tortured brutes were pitiful in the extreme. Part of a partition of the stall which Storm was in was torn away and before the eyes of the spectators the great pacer struggled for life, but he soon succumbed to the fire and smoke.

Storm was one of the most promising horses on the turf. His speed showed increase from 2:25 as a 2-year-old to 2:08 1/4 as a 4-year-old. He was expected to make a mark of at least 2:05 this season. An offer of $30,000 was refused but a few days ago. The entire string was valued at $100,000.

First Suit Against the Coal Combine.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 28.—On complaint of Richard Walsh, John J. Rhodes, general manager of the Minnesota bureau of coal statistics, was arrested on the charge of perjury yesterday. He was released on $5,000 bail. This is the first arrest growing out of the war on the coal combine. The house of representatives unanimously passed Senator Donnelly's bill making it the duty of Minnesota courts to dismiss any act on like the $50,000 suit brought by John J. Rhodes against mine officers and employees of the legislature for damages indicated while in the discharge of their duties and making void any judgment rendered in such cases.

Made an Important Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The supreme court of the United States yesterday declared its opinion that the United States could not condemn the property of private corporations without considering in the proceedings the earning capacity thereof.

The opinion was rendered by Justice Brewer in the case of the appeal of the Monongahela navigation company from the judgment of the circuit court for the Western district of Pennsylvania in condemnation proceedings instituted by the United States.

Deliberately Lost a Quarter of a Million.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Because John C. Johnson did not fully appreciate the possibilities of a mining claim located by himself and others in the Roaring Fork mining district in 1880, and diligently prosecute proceedings to determine his right of title thereto, the supreme court of the United States yesterday decided that he could not establish his title to a quarter interest in it, estimated to be worth, when he waked up to its value, the sum of $1,000,000.

Burned With His Children.

NEILLSVILLE, Wis., March 28.—Oliver Sanders, living about six miles from Neillsville, discovered his house on fire at about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. He aided his wife and one child out and returned for two other children, one 3 and one 6 years old, and never came out alive. The three bodies were found in the ruins after the fire was extinguished in a horribly charred condition, their limbs being burned off. Mr. Sanders was 60 years of age.

'Weekly Pay' Act Unconstitutional.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 28.—The supreme court has decided that the "weekly pay" act passed by the late general assembly is unconstitutional. The decision was by Judge Black. The decision has caused considerable feeling in the mining districts of the state.

Poisoned With Whisky.

Samuel received a high school education and began newspaper work at the age of 19 on the Fort Wayne Gazette. Four years later he became editor of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, of which he became one of the proprietors in 1879. In September, 1880, Mr. Morss and William R. Nelson established the Kansas City Star, but Mr. Morss sold his interest two years later. After a European trip he served the Chicago Times as Washington correspondent and editorial writer until November, 1887. In February of the following year he purchased an interest in the Indianapolis Sentinel, of which he is editor-in-chief and president of the Sentinel company.

THE SENATORIAL CONTESTS.

Arguments of the Majority in Favor of Seating the Appointees.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The reports of the majority and minority on the contested election case of Lee Mantle, senator appointed by the governor of Montana, were made to the senate yesterday, Mr. Hoar submitting the report of the majority in favor of seating Mr. Mantle, and Mr. Vance, chairman of the committee, the report against.

There are two other cases, those of Mr. Beckwith, appointed by the governor of Wyoming, and Mr. Allen, appointed by the governor of Washington. Inasmuch as the facts are the same the test will be made in the case of the senator upon whose credentials the report is made. It is not unlikely that as this is decided so will be the others. Both reports are rather lengthy and a question of adjournment was briefly touched upon in the cases dealing with the same question.

The minority report, adverse to the right to the seat, will be made tomorrow by Mr. Vance.

The Senate's Executive Work.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—In executive session yesterday an effort was made to release for publication the recently ratified Russian extradition treaty, but the motion was not finally passed upon. The question of reorganization was briefly touched upon without result, and a number of confirmations were made, but will not be released until after the next executive session.

Delaney May Go to Siam.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—T. J. Delaney of Springfield appears to have a cinch of the mission to the land of the white elephant, so far as senatorial influence can give it to him. Messrs. Vest and Cockrell have joined in a strong recommendation of him and, as only Missourians appear to be eligible, his chances are held to be surpassingly good.

Suicide of a Well Known Publisher.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Horace C. Donoghue, a well known publisher, was standing before his dressing case this morning when his wife took up a newspaper and began reading aloud about Elliott F. Shepard's death in New York. Suddenly she heard her husband fall with a peculiar gurgling sound and, rushing to his side, was horrified to find that he had cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor. Donoghue leaves a large estate.

Chinamen Will Not Resist.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The Chinese vice consul brands as a fabrication a report that the Chinese Six Companies have issued circulars advising Chinamen in the United States to resist the provisions of the Geary law by force.

Manager Time of the Six Companies says advices have been received from Washington that Mr. Cleveland assured the Chinese minister the United States will do "what is right" about the matter.

Jules Ferry's Successor.

PARIS, March 28.—The senate to-day elected M. Challeme Lacour, the well-known statesman, writer and senator from Bouches du Rhone, president of the senate in place of the late Jules Ferry.

K. & T., accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city this afternoon.—*Denison Herald.FINNEY'S POWER.*A Kansas City View of Affairs on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway.The Kansas City Star which has taken much interest in the official changes on the M., K. & T. has the following to say concerning the reported resignation of Mr. Purdy and the appointment of Mr. Underwood:"The resignation of Mr. Purdy is another move in the general cleaning out of the 'Katy' staff of officials. Some time ago it was stated in the Star that F. N. Finney, formerly general manager of the Wisconsin Central and later of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, had practically secured control of the 'Katy.' It was stated that he would in time remove the officials who then held office and would, through his influence with the owners of the road, put in men who were suitable to him. This was regarded as a preparatory move to his taking the active management of the road or naming the official who would be in charge. The recent changes on the road have borne out this fact and there is every reason to believe that Mr. Finney has full control of the different departments.

The history of the disagreement between Mr. Waldo and Mr. Purdy was published at the same time with the prediction that one or the other of the two would be forced to leave the road. The statement was severely criticised at the time, especially at St. Louis where the denials were published without any apparent authority and in a manner which only confirmed the belief in the original statements. Notwithstanding the frantic efforts in St. Louis to belittle the reports there is now every reason to believe that they were authentic and their accuracy is shown by the resignation of Mr. Purdy, the first to give way in the bitter war which has existed among the heads of the departments.

The appointment of Mr. Underwood as the successor of Mr. Purdy is another illustration of the power possessed by Mr. Finney. He is one of the most prominent of what have been called the 'Finney men,' and has served with Mr. Finney at different times in the past. When Mr. Cross retired as president of the system, Mr. Underwood was offered the position of chief of the system in charge of all departments. On account of his stipulation that he name all the heads of the departments he was not given the position, Mr. Waldo and others being at that time strong enough to resist the demand. His subsequent appointment is looked upon as an assurance that even Mr. Waldo will not continue with the line despite his apparent victory over Mr. Purdy. It is generally believed that at the annual meeting in May Mr. Waldo will also retire and that an entirely new administration will be placed in charge of the system."

BRAKEMEN DISCHARGED.A Late Order on the M. K. & T. Keeps up the "Reduction of Expenses."

An order went into effect on the M., K. & T. yesterday that has created no little dissatisfaction among a certain class of the employees of the road.

The order states that the third brakeman in every freight train crew running between Sedalia and Parsons shall be discharged. This forces two men to do the work of three.

A number of the men effected by the change have been running regularly for several years and they will be compelled either to join the "extras" or seek employment on other roads.

The order is supposed to have resulted from a desire to reduce expenses.

A Rich Present.

The First Baptist church last evening was the scene of one of those pleasant events that do so much to make larger the bright spots of earth and to bring men closer together by letting them know that true nobility of character will ever receive its reward among honest men.

The members of Sedalia Knights of Pythias lodges, Sedalia lodge No. 27, and Queen City lodge No. 52, with City Attorney John Cashman as spokesman, presented Rev. J. B. Fuller, pastor of the church, with a silver communion service, rich in quality and beautiful in design. The service consisted of four plates, four goblets and a flagon. Mr. Cashman in his address spoke of the high esteem in which Rev. J. B. Fuller was held by all who know him; of his profound learning as a scholar and of his able, earnest and conscientious efforts to upbuild the moral and intellectual natures of the people with whom he came in contact. The address was happy in expression and touched feelingly upon the many noble qualities of the recipient of the gift. Rev. Fuller responded modestly and delicately, thanking the lodges for their rich remembrance and assuring them of his high appreciation of their regard.

Drawing Men.

Dr. Van Dyke.

"A man came into my study the other day from one of the churches near Murray hill that is vacant, and he said, 'I wish you could recommend us a minister for our church.' I said, 'I can recommend a dozen.' He seemed rather bluffed at that, and said, 'Won't you suggest a name?' I suggested one man, and he said, 'I understand that man has not a very strong voice!' I suggested another. 'Well, I understand that man wears a black cravat in the pulpit!' Another man. 'Well, I understand that man is not a very good reader!' And another man. 'Well, I understand that men has a very stiff and formal delivery.' Finally he said, 'Well, what we want in our church is a minister that will draw.' 'Oh, no, my Christian friend, what you want is a church that will hold. You haven't got it. Twenty congregations have passed through your church in the last twenty years, and they have passed through because you have not had a church that will hold the people when they get into it. The minister will not hold. Success depends not half so much upon the minister as upon the church.'"

An Unique Occurrence.

A suit in equity was filed in the office of Circuit Clerk Fowler today which is novel in the extreme. The plaintiff, Chastine L. Morris, has a son of the same name, the distinction of "sr." and "jr." being used by them, however. On Jan. 8, 1891, Milo Brown received judgment in the Pettis county circuit court for the sum of $490 against the properties of Chastine L. Morris, the son, John A. Logan and Newton J. Morris. On April 24th, 1891, the sheriff levied upon a tract of land which was supposed to belong to Chastine L. Morris, jr., but really belonged to his father.

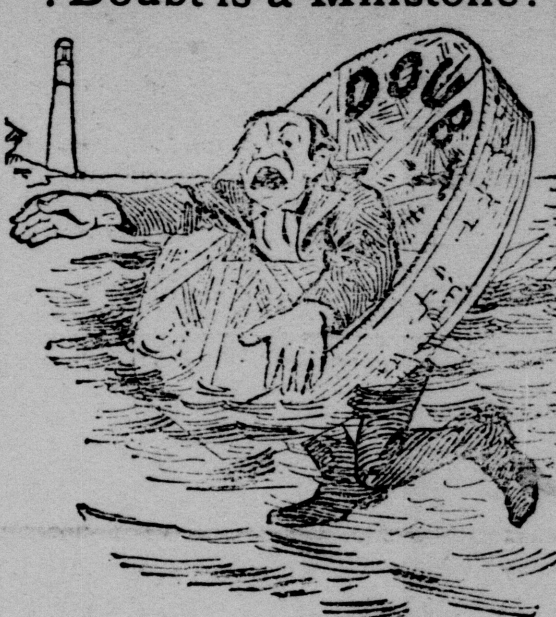

On May 16, 1891, it was sold by the sheriff and bid in by Milo Brown for $10, though the plaintiff in the petition claims it to be worth $2,000. Mr. Morris, sr., prays the court to declare the sheriff's deed null and void and to give such other relief as in equity he should have.
